Diamond Spectacles.

THESE SPECTACLES are manufactured from "MINUTE CRYSTAL PEBBLES" melted together, and are called Diamond on account of their hardness and brilliancy. It is well known that spectacles cut from Brazilian or Scotch pebbles are very injurious to the eye, because of their polarizing light. Having been tested with the polariscope, the diamond lenses have been found to admit fifteen per cent. less heated rays than any other pebble. They are ground with great scientific accuracy, are free from chromatic aberrations, and produce a brightness and distinctness of vision not before attained in spectacles.
Manufactured by the Spencer Optical Manufacturing Comp New York. For sale by responsible agents in every city in the Union. H. A. HEATH & CO., Jewelers and Opticians, are sole Agents for Newport, R. I.,—from whom they can only be obtained. No peddlers employed. Do not buy any unless you see the trade mark. ap

[From the Savannah News.]

"You see," said the Squire, pitching his voice to an exegetical altitude "It wuz sorter this way. Last Chuseday wuz a week ago I sailed down from Gwinnett to Atlanty with seven bags of cotton. Arter I sold 'em, I kinder loafed roun' lookin' at things in general an feelin' jest as happy as you please, when who should I run agin but Kurnel Blassengame. Me an' the kurnel used to be boys together, an' we wuz as thick as five kittens in a rag basket. We drunk outen the same goad, an' we got the lint snatched outen us by the same bandy-legged school teacher. I wuz as lonesome as a rain-crow, afore I struck up with the kurnel, an' I wuz glad to see him durned glad. We knocked roun' town right smartually; an' the kurnel interjuced me to a whole raft of fellors—mighty nice boys they wuz, too. Arter supper the kurnel says:

"'Skaggs,' says he, 'less go to my room whar we kin talk over ole times sorter comfortable an' ondisturbed like.'

"'Greeable,' says I, an' we walked up a narrer par of stairs. The Kurnel gin a little rap at a green door, an' a slick lookin' merlatter popped out an' axed us in. He wuz the durndest perlitest nigger you ever seed. He jest got up an' spun aroun' like a tom cat with her tail afire. The room wuz as fine as a fiddle an' full of pictures an' sofys, an' the cheers wuz as saft as lam's wool, an' I thought to meself that the kurnal wuz a lugsuriant cuss. Thar wuz a lot of mighty nice fellers scattered roun' a laffin' an' a talkin' quite soshabel like. Aperient, the kurnel wuzent much sot back, for he sorter laffed to himself an' then he says:

"'Boys,' says he, 'I hev fetched up a friend Jedge Hightower, this is Squire Skaggs of Gwinnett. Majer Briggs, Squire Skaggs,' an' so on all roun'. Then the kurnel turns to me an' says:

"'Reely, I wuzent expectin' company, Skaggs, but the members of the Young Men's Christun Sososhun make my room their headquarters.'

"I ups and says I wuz mighty glad to meet the boys. I used to be a Premativ' Baptis myself afore I got to cussin' the Yankees, an' I hev always had a sorter hankerin' arter pious folks. They all laffed an' shuck han's over agin, an' we sot thar a smokin' an' a chawin' jest as muchuel as you please. I disremember how it come up, but presently Majer Briggs gits up an' says:

"'Kurnel, what about that new parler game you got out the other day?'

"'Oh,' says the kurnel, lookin' sorter sheepish, 'that wuz a humbug. I can't make no head nor tail outen it.'

"'I'll bet I kin manage it,' says Judge Hightower, quite animated like.

"'I'll show you how, jedge, with pleasure,' says the kurnel, an' then he went to a table, unlocked a box an' tuck out a deck of keerd an' a whole lot of little what you may calleums, similarly to horn buttons, some white an' some red.'

Squire Skaggs paused and supplied his tireless jaws with a fresh quid of tobacco.

"It ain't no use to tell you any more. When them fellers got done larnin' me that game I didn't have money enough to take me down stairs. I lay I looked a leetle wild, for when the jedge closed the box he said:

"'We hev had a pleasant evening', squire. You'll find the kurnal waitin' for you on the steps, an' he'll give you your money back.'

"I ain't never laid eyes on the kurnel sence, an' when I do thar's goin' to be a case for the kurriner—you mind my words. I seed Rufe lester next day—you know Rufe; he's in the legislatur now, but I used to give him pop-corn when he wuzen't so high—I seed Rufe an' he seed I wuz tuck in by the Pharoah men. Tuck in ain't no name for it. Derned ef I didn't go to the bottom an' git shinned alive."

CREMATION.

SHALL WE BURN OR BURY OUR DEAD? THE BURNING OF SHELLEY. AN ITALIAN PROFESSOR THINKS HE HAS DISCOVERED THE PROPER WAY OF TURNING A MAN INTO BONE DUST.

Since the introduction of Christianity there have arisen from time to time advocates for cremation—chiefly among men whose studies have led them over a vast range of literature and by men who have not committed themselves to any nation, religion, or age: Among these there were none more quaint and impressive than Sir Thomas Browne:

To be gnawed out of our graves, to have our skulls made into drinking bowls, and our bones turned into pipes to delight and sport our enemies, are tragical abominations escaped in burning burials. In carnal sepulture corruptions seem peculiar to some parts, and some speak of snakes out of spinal marrow. * * * He that hath the ashes of his friend hath an incorruptible treasure. When the fire taketh leave corruption slowly enters.

In the actual cremation of the dead we have but one link which connects the present with the past. It is the burning of the body of Shelley and his companion, which the quarantine laws of Italy demanded, and was carried out under the instructions of Byron and Leigh Hunt. In the arrangements made for it is the first departure from the method of cremation which belonged to the past. A furnace of iron bars and strong sheet-iron was constructed. The bodies were placed in this, the combustible materials underneath and after a few hours' fierce burning the remains were found to be reduced to dark-colored ashes and some fragments of large bones. Such are the bare facts which rigorous laws imposed under the most unfavorable circumstances, but which were rendered by the ceremonies as tender and beautiful as the love and devotion of friends could contribute. Leigh Hunt writes:

It was beautiful and distressing. Shelley, with his Greek enthusiasm, would not have been sorry to see this part of his fate. The mortal part of him, too, was saved from corruption; not the least extraordinary part, too, of his history. Among the materials for burning as many of the graceful-ler and more classical articles as could be procured—frankincense, wine, oil, &c.—were not forgotten and to these Keats's volume was added. The beauty of the flame arising from the funeral pile was extraordinary. The weather was beautifully fine. The Mediterranean, now soft and lucid, kissed the shore as if to make peace with it. The yellow sand and blue sky were intensely contrasted with one another. The distant mountains touched the air with coolness, and the flame of the fire bore away toward heaven in vigorous amplitude, wavering and quivering with a brightness of inconceivable beauty. It seemed as though it contained the glassy essence of vitality. You might have expected a seraphic countenance to look out of it, turning once more before it departed to thank the friends who had done their duty.

Until the recent experiments in cremation, with this exception this manner of disposing of the dead has never been so extensively practised in Europe as disposing of the living by burning, whose ashes have been no less precious, no less carefully treasured from the deep inflammation of their taking off. But whereas in this matter the ancients saw through a glass darkly we now see face to face. Cremation is now urged no longer as a pageant embodying religious aspirations or as a debt to be paid to the dead. The strongest plea for it is as duty owed to the living a plea supported by economy, healthfulness, and cleanliness. Death and decomposition take their place in the economy of nature as the means of life to vegetation—through the wastefulness and neglect of man they have largely contributed to the death of the living. Cremation, then, proposes to accomplish in the safest and most rapid manner what inhumation accomplishes slowly, clumsily, and wastefully. And this the resources of modern science can easily effect. In the recent experiments of Dr. Brunetti, Professor of Pathological Anatomy in the University of Padua, we have a process which has proven satisfactory. In the Revue Scientifique is given the details:

He found that in the retorts of gas manufactories, or in closed receptacles, free from air, under ordinary conditions a satisfactory performance was impossible. After experiments he discovered in the first place, there is necessary an oblong furnace of fire-proof bricks having ten holes below, by means of which the fire can be regulated. The upper part of this must be hollowed to receive the coffin, and over this a domed cover, by which the flames, as in a reverbatory furnace, may be directed upon the body. Within the coffin is a metal support on which the body rests fixed by thick iron wires. The operation embraces three periods.

First, the heating of the body; second, the incineration of the soft parts; third, the calcination of the bones. During the first period, about a half hour after the furnace is lighted, the combustion of the body begins. It gives off a large quantity of gas, and the management of the reverbatory parts of the furnace is of great importance.

During the second period the spontaneous combustion of the body takes place, which, according to Professor Brunetti, makes a profound impression on the mind. If the wood has been well arranged two hours suffice to produce complete carbonization.

During the third period, the air-holes being opened, the carbonized mass is collected and placed upon a fresh plate, and the heat is now urged to the utmost, a fresh supply of wood being inserted. By means of this arrangement complete incineration—that is to say, incineration of the soft parts and perfect calcination of the bones—is effected in two hours. When the furnace has cooled the cinders and bones are collected and deposited in a funeral urn. As the result of his experiments Professor Brunetti found the body of a woman, thirty-five years old, weighing 119 pounds, reduced to four and a half pounds, and that of a man of fifty, weighing ninety pounds, reduced to two and a half pounds. Quoting from Sir Henry Thompson's article, "these ashes were exhibited at the Vienna Exposition. They were of a delicate white, and contained in a glass box 12 inches long by 8 inches wide and 8 deep. The quantity of wood necessary was about 150 pounds and cost about 75 cents of our money. All disagreeable effects were avoided.

Peabody Medical Institute.
No. 4 Bullfinch street, Boston.
When a thing is counterfeited, it is a proof of its excellence and popularity. The Peabody Medical Institute is a case in point. Founded in good faith many years ago, and the only establishment of the kind in the country, its success and ever-increasing popularity finally caused the name (Medical Institute) to be pirated and adopted by a lot of infamous quacks, empirics and pretenders, who have been endeavoring to cheat the public by sailing under a stolen flag. The founder of the Peabody Medical Institute can in no way be held responsible for this misuse of the name of a reputable and well known curative establishment and legitimate medical institution, which has been from the start specially devoted to the treatment of nervous derangements and affections, from whatever causes proceeding. During its existence there have been issued from it several medical publications; quite recently a work on Diseases of the Nervous System, which have had almost a world-wide circulation and popularity. These publications sufficiently attest the high character of the institution under whose patronage these medical works have been published. Meantime it is gratifying to know that several of the impudent charlatans, who have stolen its name to cover their nefarious practices, are getting their deserts in the penal institutions of the Commonwealth.—[Boston Herald. jan14-n&j-1t

ONE LESS HONEST MAN.

In reading the newspaper notices of the late Senator Sumner one gets an inkling of the reason why he was especially respected during his life and missed in his death that is far from encouraging either to the patriot or to the moralist. Mr. Sumner has left on the statute book but little to be remembered by, because he was too impatient of details to draw up bills, and too high spirited to buttonhole his colleagues and work his measures through. He has left no vacancy in the organization of the government nor in the opposition to the administration. He has latterly been outside of both the leading parties. He was a scholarly man but he is not missed for his erudition, for among our doctors and professors we have more learned men than he. Nor is he missed for his oratory. He was not so eloquent as some other men who have been in our public service and lately he has seldom spoken at all. He was not identified with any especial policy except that one whose consummation began with the emancipation proclamation and will end with the civil rights bill which he bequeathed to Judge Hoar.

Why is it, then, that every one seems to feel a personal loss in the death of the Massachusetts Senator? Why is he missed? Where is the vacant place that he leaves? We are forced to believe that to answer these questions one must look at Mr. Sumner's private character rather than at his public policy. Wherever he was known he was known as a perfectly honest and conscientious man: a man who would be true to his convictions regardless of the fame or power or wealth that might have been attained by a more temporizing policy. He was known in the South as well as in the North, in Europe as well as in the United States, to be absolutely incorruptible. He was as little to be influenced by offers of political preferment as by offers financially advantageous. No one offered him stock in the Credit Mobilier or the Emma mine. No member of the Third house wasted his time trying to influence the senior Senator from Massachusetts, and that great man has passed away and left behind him a reputation so spotless that the most ingenious and unprincipled of his political enemies has never dared assail it.

Has it then come to this that when one honest gentleman in the political world dies millions of people who never saw him feel that they have lost a friend and a nation mourns the death of one who occupied no prominent part in the administration of affairs? One less honest man in Congress and every one feels that there is a great vacancy there, and wonders if it can be filled! It is not complimentary either to our electors or the men they elect that the death of one brave and upright man in public life should cause a general feeling of uneasiness—almost alarm, and set all to asking "What will the Camerons and the Butlers do with us now?"

.....The London Times publishes a eulogistory article on the death of Charles Sumner. Referring to the disputes between England and the United States, it says: "Mr. Sumner was not able to judge us dispassionately, and we possibly have not understood all the influences which made him apparently unjust. It is better to forget these differences and remember the strong impulse for good which first drew him from private life to oppose that great national wrong, slavery, and which in spite of his many weaknesses, remained his guiding principle even to the end.

Hans Sachs was one of the most prolific poets that ever lived. Eight years before his death he took an inventory of his poetic stock, and found that he had written then 6181 pieces, namely: 1200 songs, 208 comedies and tragedies, 1700 comic tales and 73 miscellaneous lyrics.

.....The marquis de Noailles and his family, late of Washington, have arrived in Paris, on the way for Rome. "The marquise," says the Pall Mall Gazette, "was a long time before she could make up her mind to cross the melancholy Atlantic, so deep an effect had the collision between the Ville du Havre and the Lock Earn made on her mind. The marquis is a very liberal man, and he will, no doubt, get on quite as well as M. Fournier did at the Quirinal. This liberalism is nothing new in the family. In the days of the first revolution there was a liberal marquis de Noailles, who had caught republican notions in America fighting with Lafayette. He was at the Tuileries when Louis XVI. was brought back captive to Paris after his flight to Varennes, and gallantly offered his arm to Marie Antoinette; the queen turned indignantly away, and accepted the aid of a regular republican to descend from the carriage."

THE REV. DR. PORTEOUS.

The Rev. D. Porteous, about whom during the past two weeks there has been considerable stir here, came to this country a few months since from Ireland, professedly to make a lecturing tour and to make money also. Having failed to complete his arrangements for delivering lectures, he applied, to Bishops Potter and Littlejohn, as a clergyman of the church of England. Bishop Potter, after giving the license, revoked it for reasons given, and for others we understand not necessary to be published.

Last week Bishop Littlejohn revoked his permission, also, and some little stir in certain quarters has resulted therefrom. A number of persons, admirers of Dr. Porteous, met at the Mansion House, Brooklyn, on Saturday last to meet the gentleman with a view to the organizing of a new church, with him as the head. As the Rev. Dr. claims to belong to the school of theology of which Dean Stanley is the recognized leader, this new movement will undoubtedly be named the "Broad Episcopal Church." Overtures have been made to Dr. Porteous by Bishop Cummins' friends, but he will not listen to them; he prefers to make a new departure himself.

Our American bishops should be more careful in granting permission to English clergymen to preach in their respective dioceses. Especially when they abuse the privilege granted them so courteously, and prostitute their profession by delivering comic lectures, merely as a money making scheme.

—About fifty vessels left our harbor this morning, having been detained here by the severe weather. It is seldom we have so hard a time for sailing craft as during the present week.

—Tomorrow is the last Sabbath but one of the pastorate of the Rev. D. P. Leavitt of this city. It is also expected that the Rev. E. F. Jones will go to a new appointment and the Rev. S. Leader of Willimantic become his successor.

—Extensive improvements are being made in the store formerly occupied by W. H. Bliss and business has been suspended there, for the time being. The store will have a new front. Mr. J. M. K. Southwick is to occupy it.

—Says the Norwich Bulletin: "The tidal wave of revivals has swept over Block Island, and it is said there is not a dweller on the island that is not a member of the church. Over 100 persons were converted in three Sundays, and the little nook in the waves can be said to be the only strictly Christian community in the country. A schooner belonging there has hitherto been a general rallying place for all kinds of wickedness and depravity but now not even an oath is allowed on board, through the strict orders of the captain."

JUVENILE THIEVING.—Two boys, named Barker and Hunnewell, were arrested yesterday afternoon for breaking and entering the slaughter house of I. W. Sherman & Co. Articles have frequently been missed from that place. The last article missed was an iron bar. Mr. William A. Sherman of the firm went to all the junk stores in town to find it. He was successful in recovering the bar and to the discovery of the thieves. The doors and grate of a furnace, which is used for trying out fat, were carried off. The scales, axe, all the ropes attached to the tackles, and many other minor articles were among the missing. The boys will be brought before the justice court Tuesday morning.

A LEGAL MUDDLE. The offence for which John Wilson was arraigned yesterday is not a violation of any statute law but of a city ordinance. The ordinance imposes a penalty of three months imprisonment, but the statutes forbid the infliction under the city ordinance of more than ten days imprisonment. This conflict leaves the court in an awkward predicament. If the complaint had been brought under the common law this trouble would have been avoided but the case would then have been beyond the jurisdiction of the justice court.

The above legal muddle, however, seems to have entirely overlooked a provision in the first section of the city charter, in which after constituting the inhabitants of the town of Newport a body politic and corporate, and confirming them in all the rights, immunities, privileges and franchises appertaining to the freemen and Town Council thereof, declares that it "may ordain and publish such acts, laws, regulations as shall be needful to the good order of said body petites, and inflict fines and penalties for breeches thereof, not exceeding two hundred dollars and six month's imprisonment for any one offense." How far this has been modified, if at all, by subsequent legislation we are unable to say.

MARINE DISASTERS.—The brig Aura, of Windsor, N. S., W. J. Card, master, from Cienfuegos with a cargo of sugar and cedar, bound to New York, put into this port yesterday. Capt. Card makes the following report:—Sailed from Cienfuegos, Feb. 17, continued on our passage and experienced heavy squalls on Saturday morning, March 1, from the South, shifting to the North and striking the ship aback and carrying away the main top mast, main top gallant mast, main topsail yards, and top gallant yards, and tearing the sails and doing other damage. Since that time have had heavy gales of wind and high seas, split the top gallant sail which was bent for a top sail, and split main topmast staysail, continued on our passage for New York, and the gale still continued: put into Newport for the safety of the vessel and cargo.

Capt. Anderson of the schooner Henry M. Rigeley, which was hauled off the breakwater yesterday by the revenue cutter Moccasin, makes the following report:—Sailed from Jersey City March 8, and put into New Haven the same evening. Lay at New Haven until the next day and continued to Stonington where we landed 50 tons of our cargo of pig iron. Left Stonington Thursday and continued on the passage with heavy gales of wind during which the jaws of the main boom were carried away. Put into Newport same day and anchored outside the breakwater; during the evening dragged both anchors and drifted on the breakwater, straining the vessel considerably. Was hauled off the following morning by the revenue cutter Moccasin and taken into Commercial wharf, with a loss of a part of the rudder and small boat. The above named vessel was bound to Somerset, Mass.

STATE MISCELLANY.

A man giving the name of Ezra Y. Cooke is under arrest in Providence on a charge of extensive swindling of the hay and grain merchants of New York, Michigan, Vermont and elsewhere. Having leased an old building in Woonsocket, he put out the sign of Burrill & Cooke; and to this bogus firm consignments of hay and flour have been arriving from several remote places. The officers found in the store only an old table and chair. Four car-loads of flour from various points have been intercepted.

The Central Falls Woolen Mill was established in 1869, since which time it has been extensively engaged in the manufacture of cassimeres and doeskins. The mill furnishes employment to about 150 hands, who operate nine sets of machinery, turning out about 400,000 yards of cloth yearly, and consuming 450,000 pounds of wool. The goods are of a fine quality, and are sold mostly in New York.

JOSHUA COGGESHALL.

This name, so well known and so highly honored in this vicinity, was the subject of a lecture by the Rev. Dr. Coggeshall a few evenings since, before the Rhode Island Historical Society in Providence. The speaker is reported, in the Journal, as having read or talked about Joshua Coggeshall, of Portsmouth, one of the founders of Quakerism in America, and about the early history of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, occupying two hours, a satisfactory synopsis of which it is impossible to give. He traced the genealogy of the Coggeshall family back to eight centuries ago, and exhibited several specimens of the coats of arms of the earlier families. John Coggeshall, the father of Joshua (who was then three years old) came to Boston in September, 1632, in the ship Leon, the same vessel which brought over Roger Williams nearly ten years before. John was driven from Boston, with others, for being an adherent of Ann Hutchinson, and came to Rhode Island two years after. Roger Williams arrived here and settled on the Island of Acquidneck. Joshua was Quaker as early as 1660, and took a prominent part in the affairs of the society and in the town, and his descendants, estimated at five thousand or more, are now scattered from Maine to Oregon. He died in 1689, at the age of eighty years. During the latter part of his life he was subjected to many persecutions and annoyances from the Quakers for violating their law, which forbade a marrying within a year after the death of the former wife, and in this connection the speaker reflected somewhat severely upon the Quakers, who had themselves fled from persecution, in turn persecuting others for the violation of a law which God had not made, the same as did the Puritans. In the course of the lecture, the speaker said that Quakerism was in this state twenty five years before Penn came to Pennsylvania and that Penn's idea of founding a state on the principles of religious liberty was received from Rhode Island, through George Fox, who visited this state in 1673. This state was thus the first founded on that principle, religious freedom under Lord Baltimore, being forced upon him by a Protestant king, and included only those who believed in Jesus Christ, while Rhode Island invited people of all faiths. He also stated that religious liberty was founded by the Quakers and the Six Principle Baptists, and not by the regular Calvinistic Baptists, who were not here in time to do it.

ANTHONY ON SUMNER.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—In the Senate yesterday Mr. Anthony arose and said:

Mr. President: In the absence of the Senator to whom this saddest duty pertains, and who is detained from the Senate by illness, the Senator from Massachusetts, I have been requested to make you the formal announcement of an event which my heart refuses to accept and which my lips hesitate to declare. It is an event which needs not to be announced, for its dark shadow rests gloomily upon this chamber, and not only upon the Senate and the capitol, but upon the whole country, and the intelligence of which, borne on the mysterious wires that underlie, has been already carried to the remotest lands, and has aroused profoundest sympathy wherever humanity weeps for a friend, wherever liberty deplores an advocate. The oldest member of this body in continuous service, he who yesterday was the oldest, beloved for the graces of his personal character, admired for his genius and his accomplishments, revered for the fidelity with which he adhered to his convictions, illustrious for his service to the Republic and to the world, has crossed the dark river that divides us from the "undiscovered country." Charles Sumner died yesterday. Today in humble submission to the Divine will, we meet to express our respect for his character, our veneration for his memory. Tomorrow, with sorrowing steps and with sorrowing hearts, we shall bear him to that Massachusetts which he served so faithfully, and which loved him so well, and to her soil, precious with the dust of patriotism and of valor, of letters and of art, of statesmanship and of eloquence, we shall commit the body of one who thus is worthy to rest by the side of the noblest and the best of those who in the centuries of her history have made her the model of a free commonwealth. But the great duty which illustrated his life shall not die with him, and never shall the earth cover the immortal principles to which he devoted every energy of his soul, the consummation and vindication of which as his highest reward a great God permitted him to witness. Mr. President, this is not the time nor is the office mine to pronounce the words that are due to this event. A future hour and more fitting utterances shall interpret to the American people the affectionate respect of the Senate to our dead associate, and the homage which it renders to his life and character. I therefore offer the following resolutions:—

Resolved, That a committee of the members be appointed by the President pro tem. of the Senate to take the order for superintending the funeral of Charles Sumner, a member of this body, which will take place tomorrow, Friday, at 12.30, and the Senate will attend the same.

Resolved, As a further mark of respect by the Senate for the memory of Charles Sumner and his long distinguished services to his country, that his remains be removed to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in charge of the Sergeant-at-Arms, and attended by a committee of Senators to be appointed by the President of the Senate pro tempore, who shall have full power to carry these resolutions into effect.

Resolved, That as an additional mark of respect to the memory of the deceased the Senate do now adjourn.

NEW YORK ITEMS.

Messrs. Daly and Wallack, the veteran theatrical managers, have agreed upon the plan for a combined charity benefit. The two companies will unite and present the "School for Scandal."

The jury in the case of the King murder trial came into court at 11 o'clock Thursday for further instructions and in the evening rendered a verdict of murder in the second degree. Sentence was deferred.

A council of the wine and spirit traders' society of the United States has announced that they favored the temperance movement begun in the West and extended to the East, and appointed a committee to prepare for publication a statement of the aims of the society.

The work of closing up the saloons appears to have begun in earnest. Thus far but one saloon-keeper has capitulated and closed his doors; but the ladies who are leading the movement, appear to be confident that their efforts will soon be crowned with abundant success. The ladies have worked in secret, and will not divulge either the names of the places they visit or that of the saloon they have closed, as one of the articles of agreement with the saloon-keeper was that his name should be a secret. The west side women are sending out eight or ten parties of ladies, who visit the saloons in the district daily and plead with the proprietors.

SUNDRIES.

Very touching. A Pennsylvania widow sent out invitations to a masquerade party on mourning paper the week after the funeral.

A young lady personated Nicotine at a San Francisco masked ball recently. Her dress was made of tobacco leaves, her necklace was cigars and she carried a fan and a parasol constructed of the weed.

When the cock and the fox went on board the ark they had no fear of baggage smashers; for one had a comb and the other had a brush, and that was all the luggage they had between them.

A doctor and a military officer became enamored of the same lady. A friend asked her which of the two suitors she intended to favor. She replied that "it was difficult to tell, they were both such killing creatures."

Retributive justice sometimes follows faster than we could expect. An evil-minded Brooklyn boy propelled a snow-ball at his aunt the other day, and dodging into a neighboring area, sat down on a scuttle full of hot ashes.

The Boston Globe talks about "handsome weather." Whereupon the Troy Whig suggests that "if that young man wouldn't be thinking of his girl all the time when he is butchering adjectives he would make a good writer."

That the empire of England, says the London Telegraph, has been created in the main by individual energy and private enterprise, rather than in virtue of the action of the state, is a truth even observant foreigners find it almost impossible to realize.

When the Norseman explored this neighborhood and stopped at the "Atlantic" at Newport to see the old stone tower, Mr. Kingsley does not tell us whether they found the Erie Canal frozen up, or what was the admittance fee to the dome of the State House. Doubtless they projected the first Eastern Railroad extension, and were taken down the harbor in the school ship.

Martin Chuzzlewit, who on his visit to America, thought he had been swindled when he found that the lots he and Mark Tapley had bought in Eden were all under water, should visit this remarkable country now, when lots known to be under water bring $12,500 per acre. Four acres on the Jersey side of New York Harbor were recently sold at that price to the New York Wrecking and Dredging Company.

A man who is addicted to practical jokes stepped into a popular saloon at New Albany, Indiana, the other day, and excitedly exclaimed: "The women are coming!" The effect on the crowd of card players and liquor drinkers was instantaneous. The cards were shoved down into pockets, without a murmur, except from one worthy, who held "four times" in his hand. The drinking was suspended and the crowd of revellers stood not on the order of their going, but went out of windows, back door and down the cellar steps, and the saloon in a moment was as quiet as a graveyard.

The St. Louis Republican, relieved to find that it can say "tinker's dam" without being guilty of profanity, shows its gratitude by proving the same innocence for the "continental dam." At the close of the Revolutionary war, it says, the government called in all the continental money. With it were found a large number of counterfeits, on each of which, as received, was stamped the word "Dam," a contraction of the Latin damnatus (condemned). Hence the force of the expression, "not worth a continental dam," for if a genuine continental note was worth but little, a continental "dam" or counterfeit note, must have been utterly worthless.

The Nashville Christian Advocate says: "The Mardi Gras demonstrations in this city were appalling in their obscenity and licentiousness. Lewd fellows of the baser sort paraded in the streets in the evening with loose women, almost in a state of nudity. Doggeries were visited by them—dances of the most obscene character were performed, and the miserable wretches of both sexes were found at late hours of the night lying about the street, overcome by their drunken debauch."

A few days ago a lady entered a dry goods store and inquired for a "bow." The polite clerk threw himself back and remarked that he was at her service. "Yes, but I want a buff, not a green one," was the reply. The young man went on measuring goods.

Foremost among the invigorants, recommended by time and experience, as a means of fortifying the system against all endemic and epidemic maladies, stands Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Whoever has traveled in the West or South knows full well the esteem in which this incomparable preventive and restorative is held throughout those regions. It is literally a domestic staple in the swampy and malarious localities which lie on the borders of many of our large rivers and in the neighborhood of our southern bayous and lagoons. Now is the time when the inhabitants of all malarious districts should put their systems and constitutions in good defensive trim by a course of this powerful vegetable antidote. By this means the feeblest resident of an unhealthy soil may escape the sickness, which without the aid of this potent ally of nature, will be apt to overtake the strongest. Chills and fever, bilious remittents, constipation, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and many other complaints are frequently brought on by the caprices of temperature and alternations of dry cold and excessive moisture common in our climate at the commencement of spring. Let all who desire to avoid these distressing ailments take the Bitters as a safeguard.

SATURDAY, MARCH 14, 1874.

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Funeral of Senator Sumner.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The funeral services of Charles Sumner on the part of the national government were attended in Washington yesterday. The exercises were held in the Senate chamber at noon, the body having previously lain in state in the rotunda of the capitol. The Senate was called to order in accordance with the usual custom, by Senator Carpenter, and then followed religious services of a simple character, conducted by the chaplains of the Senate and House, no eulogy or remarks of any kind being made, with the exception of brief closing words by Senator Carpenter. The exercises were attended by the President and his cabinet, with representatives of all the other departments of the government and of foreign legations, besides many other distinguished persons, and a large representation of colored people. At the close of the services the body was conveyed to the Baltimore railroad station, and attended by the Congressional committees appointed for that purpose, started at three o'clock for Boston, the funeral train passing through Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, at which latter city the delegation rested last night. The body will be brought to Boston today, arriving at five o'clock. The committee of the Massachusetts legislature appointed on the message of the governor announcing Mr. Sumner's death reported simultaneously in both branches a series of resolutions, which were adopted after addresses by President Loring, General Banks and others in the senate, and Messrs. Phillips, Codman, Hale and other prominent members of the house. Committees were appointed to make arrangements for the funeral, to meet the remains at the state line, and to arrange for an oration.

NEW YORK.

Sentence of King.

NEW YORK, March 13.—King, the murderer, was today sentenced to imprisonment for life in the state prison. The majority of the jury were in favor of murder in the first degree from the first. Three or four were for a degree which did not include hanging. The jury was out twenty-seven hours. King is to apply for a new trial.

The Funeral Train.

The train bearing Mr. Sumner's remains left Washington at three o'clock. It consisted of a baggage car, passenger car and three parlor cars. Each was elaborately draped in mourning, bands and festoons of crape extending entirely around the sides and ends. The coffin was in the forward car guarded by a detail of capitol police. The other cars conveyed the committees of Congress and the Massachusetts delegation, excepting only Hooper and Boutwell, both too ill to leave the capitol.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE FILLMORE OBSEQUIES.

A Day of Mourning in Buffalo—the Services at St. Paul's Cathedral; Impressive Ceremonies—the Distinguished Personages in Attendance.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 12.—Business was suspended to-day and flags were half-masted on all the buildings and vessels in the harbor. All the residences on the route of the procession were profusely dressed in mourning. Rev. Drs. Hotchkiss and Lord conducted the religious exercises at the late residence of Mr. Fillmore this morning, when the remains, under escort of the Buffalo City Guards, were conveyed to St. Paul's cathedral, where they were laid in state. Large quantities of flowers were placed on and around the casket. Thousands viewed the remains. Shortly after 2 o'clock the doors of the cathedral opened to admit the United States Senatorial and House committees, legislative committees, members of Gov. Dix's military staff, mayor, city authorities and committees, council of the University of Buffalo, the bar of Erie county, board of trade and representatives of other civic societies. At a quarter past 2, the family having entered the cathedral, six sergeants, detailed from the First U. S. infantry, stationed at Fort Porter, bore the casket from the vestibule into the cathedral, headed by the Rev. Dr. Shelton and the Episcopal clergy of Buffalo, and followed by Wm. A. Bird, Noah P. Sprague, E. R. Jewett, H. Marshall, O. G. Steele, Judge George W. Clinton, Henry Martin and Warren Bryant, pall-bearers (eight of the oldest and most influential citizens and friends of the deceased) and deposited the same in front of the chancel.

The services in the cathedral were of a solemn and impressive character, including a brief resume of the life of the illustrious deceased, by Rev. D. Shelton, the venerable rector of St. Paul's and the life long friend of Mr. Fillmore. The singing of the full choir of St. Paul's was grand and splendidly rendered. The casket was then borne to the hearse, and the procession moved in the following order: Major-Gen. Howard and Brigadier-Gen. Roberts and staffs; Company D. of the Buffalo City Guards; Sixty fifth and Seventy fourth regiments of National Guards; Companies A. and C. First United States infantry, under Col. De Russey, as guard of honor.

The hearse was decorated with national and funeral emblems, and was followed by a long line of carriages, with bearers, mourners, national, state and city representatives and citizens, to Forest Lawn cemetery, where, after the final service of the Episcopal Church, the remains were deposited in the stone grave in the family lot, adjoining the graves of Mr. Fillmore's former partners, Hon. Solomon F. Haven and Judge N. K. Hall, of the once famous law firm of Fillmore, Haven & Hall. The crowd on the streets along the line of march was long.

A Careless Engineer.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, March 13.—At Mansfield, today, the switch-engine of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad came in collision with the locomotive of an eastern bound freight train of the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad, as the latter was entering the bridge near Main street, throwing the latter locomotive into the creek, totally wrecking the bridge, locomotive and tender, and killing the engineer. The engineer of Baltimore engine was arrested. He says he was trying the gauge cocks, and did not see the approaching train.

Fire in Blackstone.

PROVIDENCE, March 13. A fire in Blackstone, Mass., this afternoon, destroyed a house owned by Robert Lambert, and occupied by himself and four other families. Loss $3000; insured for $1800.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.

The Democratic Victory Complete A Majority in Both Branches of the Legislature—The Prohibitionists' Reward.

CONCORD, N. H., March 13.—Later returns render it absolutely certain that the Democrats will gain undisputed control of the state government for the ensuing year, and will be in a position to carry out every scheme of a partisan nature that may be proposed. The house of representatives will comprise 169 Republicans and 177 Democrats, thus giving a good working majority.

It now appears that the Republicans have elected their candidates for senators in districts 1, 3, 9, and 10, with a possibility of No. 3 being given to them on the ground of fraudulent voting. Councillor district No. 1, is carried by the Republicans and No. 5 by the democrats while there is no choice in the remaining three districts. All vacancies are filled by the legislature; hence the Democrats will have four out of the five counsellors and either seven or eight of the twelve senators, so that every department of the government will be in their possession.

One feature of the Republican defeat is worthy of special remark. It is that while the Republicans boldly adopted a prohibitory plank in their platform, the so-called prohibitory party voted for their own men and prevented the choice of representatives in the Republican towns of Rochester, Newport, Bristol and other places. Had they acted with the Republicans in those towns, the legislature would have been Republican and the prohibitory law saved. But as it is, they aided in securing a Democratic triumph and the repeal of the law and a year of free rum will be their reward.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

JANUARY SESSION AT PROVIDENCE.

Senate.

FRIDAY, March 13.

The senate met as per adjournment, the lieutenant governor in the chair.

Mr. Currey of Providence, from the committee on the judiciary, reported back an act in addition to chapter 185 of the general statutes, "Of justice courts, their organization and jurisdiction," (from the house) with an amendment, but was subsequently recommitted on request of the chairman.

Account of James Collins against the state (from the house) for services at the September term of the East Greenwich, and account of the Bristol Light Infantry (from the house) for transportation at Newport for general muster, recommended by the joint committee on accounts were taken from the resolutions to pay them were concurred in.

Mr. Verry of Woonsocket moved that the reference of the report of the house committee on woman's suffrage and accompanying resolution to the committee on education be reconsidered, and stated that several ladies wished to have the matter referred to a special committee.

Mr. Currey, of Providence, thought it was unjust to take the matter out of the hands of the committee on education and to postpone it when a hearing is expected next Tuesday. We cannot give up that hearing without violating our first duty to the people of the state. I therefore move that we recommit the resolution and report.

The matter was finally recommitted, the senate acting upon Mr. Currey's motion.

Mr. Currey, of Providence, from the joint special committee on the militia bill, reported back the following substitute.

SECTION 1, section 1, of chapter 256 of the general statutes, is hereby amended to read as follows: Each military organization unless otherwise provided in this chapter, shall receive for every person legally enrolled in the militia of this state, who shall have performed field duty in each year, one dollar and fifty cents for each day's service performed.

SEC. 2. The state hereafter shall be subject to no appropriations or payments on account of the active militia not provided for in this act, except as provided for in sections two, three, four, five and six of said chapter 256, and in chapter 215 of the general statutes, for salaries of the general staff, unless in case of active service in the suppression of riot, tumult or invasion.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately upon its passage.

Mr. Currey stated that his position in regard to the militia question was unchanged. He said that to keep the present militia laws in force with this substitute is a slow, distilling poison.

After a short discussion the bill was passed, and ordered communicated to the house forthwith under a suspension of rules.

Mr. Cross of Westerly, offered a resolution providing that when the senate adjourns Saturday, March 21st, it adjourn to meet according to law.

Mr. Blake of Cumberland, offered an amendment providing for adjournment Friday, March 27th, to meet according to law; but it was not adopted.

The original resolution was then adopted and ordered communicated to the house as soon as possible under a suspension of rules.

Adjourned to Monday.

House.

The house met this morning as per adjournment, the speaker in the chair.

Mr. Eaton, of North Providence, in accordance with previous notice introduced an act to create a board of inspectors of hospitals, asylums, poor houses and all penal and correctional institutions, public or private, except the state prison, which was received, read, passed to a second reading, ordered to be printed, and referred to the committee on judiciary.

Mr. Day, from the committee on finance, presented a resolution making an additional appropriation of $4,000 for the support of the state government, for the year ending April 30, 1874, which was received, read once, and laid over under the rule.

Mr. Page, of Scituate, in accordance with previous notice, introduced an act in amendment of chapter 73, of the general statutes, "Of the suppression of certain nuisances" and also of chapter 79, "Of the suppression of intemperance," which was read, passed by a second reading, and referred to the committee on the judiciary. The bill provides that in all criminal prosecutions for a violation of any of the provisions of the chapters named, in which the defendant shall rely for his justification upon any license, appointment or certificate of authority, he shall prove the same, and until such proof, the presumption shall be that he is not so authorized.

Mr. Hill, from the committee on agriculture, reported favorably upon petition of the Rhode Island Society for the encouragement of domestic industry, for the improvement of waste lands, and the accompanying act, which Mr. Hill explained was the same law in force in most of the New England states, and provides that a man can drain his land without the latter's consent, under certain rules and regulations of the town council. The bill was laid on the table to be printed.

The following papers were received from the senate, read, passed to a second reading, and referred to the committee on the judiciary: Act to establish the office of harbor commissioners; act providing for the ceding of land to the United States for light houses, beacons, or other aids to navigation; act in relation to petty chapmen.

Senate acts amending the charter of the Charitable Baptist Society of Providence, and incorporating Oakland Lodge, No. 35, I. O. of O. F., of Portsmouth, was received and referred to the committee on education.

Senate act in relation to the militia was received, read, ordered printed, and assigned as the special order for Tuesday next.

Senate resolution of final adjournment on Saturday, 21st. inst, was received and on motion of Mr. Eaton of North Providence, laid upon the table for the present by general consent.

The house then adjourned till Monday morning next, at 10½ o'clock.

For Sale.

AN ENTIRELY new house situated on the Cliffs, south of the bathing beach. It is two stories with basement and Mansard roof. Rooms large and convenient and supplied with all the modern improvements. Has an unlimited view of the ocean and yet is near the compact portion of the city. Will be sold, if disposed of this spring, for $20,000. If desired, additional land may be had at a reasonable price.

The Charles Kuhn mansion house, near All Saints Chapel. Suited for a summer or winter residence. May be purchased with 20,000 feet of land at a very low figure. The house itself is worth more than is asked for the whole. Two excellent lots off the same estate on Beach street are offered separately.

The Coddington Point estate in the north part of the city, one of the most promising sections of Newport. Will be sold with one acre of ground for $10,000. This property must soon be worth twice what is now asked for it. Vacant lots are also offered in the same locality at from six to ten cents a foot.

☞I can sell other estates on favorable terms, but make special notice of the above because of the very low price at which they are offered.

PATENT

PARABOLA SPECTACLES.

Constructed in accordance with the Philosophy of Nature.

ADMIRABLY ADAPTED TO THE ORGAN OF SIGHT, AND AFFORDING ALTOGETHER THE BEST ARTIFICIAL

Help to the Human Vision.

The Parabola Glasses can be used for the greatest length of time, either by day or night, with perfect ease, (when selected to suit the state of the eye,) and never cause that giddiness of the head, or unpleasant sensation to the eyes that many experience from using the common kind, but tend to strengthen and improve the sight.

[From the Rev. Thomas Potter, Norwich Conn.]
Having used a pair of the Parabola Spectacles, I am fully persuaded of their superiority over every other kind, and am confident that the best recommendations are impartial trials. THOMAS POTTER.

[From the Hon. Isaac Hill, late Governor of New Hampshire.]
I have used the Parabola Spectacles for the last three years; and with eyes prematurely injured by severe catarrh for more than forty years, I find them unsurpassed, especially in night reading. ISAAC HILL.

[From M. G. Kerr, M. D., Norristown, Pa.]
I do most willingly bear my testimony in favor of the superiority of the Patent Parabola over all other kinds of Spectacles. They are constructed upon the best established and understood principles of Optics, and their adaptation to the human Eye in its different conditions of vision is so perfect as to render sight easy without effort. In my opinion, none others should be used, since the Eyes once used to these do not seem to grow old, and by having a focus at any point of the surface they appear to restore the eyes to their youthful energy. M. G. KERR, M. D.

[From Isaac Heister, M. D., Reading, Pa.]
I have for several years worn the Patent Parabola Spectacles, and have found them decidedly superior to the Spectacle glasses heretofore in use.
ISAAC HEISTER, M. D.

☞Should the focus of these Glasses, after making trial of them, be found not adapted to the sight, purchasers are particularly requested to have them changed until suited.

SATURDAY, MARCH 14, 1874.

SALARIES OF THE ENGLISH CLERGY.—The church has grasped all the national property appropriated to ecclesiastical purposes. It exacts its tithes, it demands fees for burial and baptism. Its total revenue, derived chiefly from public grants at different periods, is estimated at over $80,000,000. Its bishops receive salaries varying from $20,000 to $80,000 a year. The archbishop of Canterbury has £15,000, the bishop of London £10,000, besides their palaces. The bishop of Durham has £8000. Of the revenues of the cathedrals, Durham boasts an income of more than $250,000, and Canterbury about half as much. Many deans and canons live in wasteful opulence, doing no duty, or scarcely any. The wealth of the higher orders of the clergy drawn from lands that were once national property, often rivals that of the greatest bankers and merchants. One had saved at his death $500,000. Many others are almost as successful.

But, in contrast with this clerical opulence we are presented with a sadder picture. It is stated that of the working clergy, of curates and poor incumbents, many receive less than £100 a year, and that large numbers are in a condition of extraordinary want. One writes that his children live on bread and water, another that his family have no clothes nor food. One is sick and starving. A society has been established for the relief of the needy clergy. It is overwhelmed with applications.—[Eugene Lawrence in Harper's Weekly.

LOUISIANA LEGISLATION.—The last hours of the Louisana legislature were marked by tumultuous excitement, culminating in a bewildering finale of uproar and confusion. Never by any chance were there less than twenty members of the house speaking at once, and by the same rule not more than one in twenty pretending to remain in his seat. They roamed throughout the hall, at times shouting to gain the attention of the speaker, at others rising to a point of order, or to make a motion. The appropriation bill, it is claimed, was never passed, was never submitted by the speaker, nor voted on by members. Reporters of the press, officers of the house, in fact every trustworthy witness, bears the same testimony. When it was repeatedly suggested that the bill had not been voted on, the reply of the members was shouted, "Oh, it don't make any difference. We will have it entered in the journal. That will do as well."

COUGHS, SORE THROAT, INFLUENZA, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, and every affection of the THROAT, LUNGS and CHEST, are speedily and permanently cured by the use of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which does not dry up a cough and leave the cause behind, but loosens it, cleanses the lungs and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED

INSURANCE CO

CAPITAL $1,000,000.

THIS Company is now represented in Newport at the agency of the undersigned, and prepared to do business at current rates.

DAILY NEWS BUILDING. L. D. DAVIS. nl

Fire! Fire! Fire!

Make Sure

Against losses by fire by insuring in first class companies, and such as are fully able to meet their liabilities. The time has gone by when "one Policy is as good as another." Consider the following facts:—

THE ÆTNA, of Hartford,

Is the largest Company in the United States. The Losses paid by it at the Boston and Chicago fires were greater than the combined capital of TWENTY ordinary Companies. It has paid in all over and has now about $6,000,000, with which to offer indemnity to property holders in the future.

The Insurance Company of North America

Is the Oldest Stock Company in the United States. It has Assets of $3,276,739, and has paid Losses to the amount of $25,000,000.

The Royal, of Liverpool,

has Assets amounting to $11,000,000.

In addition to these I have the agency of the German American, of New York, the Scottish Commercial, of Glasgow, the Hartford, of Hartford, the Orient, of Hartford and the Roger Williams of Providence.

All classes of property covered at current rates.

Dwelling houses and their contents insured AT VERY LOW RATES.

Lucius D. Davis,

DAILY NEWS BUILDING.

SCOTTISH

OF

GLASGOW, SCOTLAND.

ASSETS $1,000,000.

THE increase of my Insurance business render it necessary to add another to the list of Companies represented at my agency. Determined to have none but the very best, I have assured as worthy to stand alongside such institutions as the ROYAL of Liverpool, ÆTNA of Hartford, INS. CO OF NORTH AMERICA, Phs., HARTFORD of Hartford, &c.

☞ Policies issued at current rates.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of many years, having within that time treated over nine thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.
To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my most matured appreciation of its value, based upon actual and witnessed realities. As a close observer, I have while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will at all times and under all circumstances act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who employs it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on the return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures as if by magic and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: [illegible] Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, [illegible] many other chronic diseases peculiar to woman not mentioned here, in which, as well as in those which I have mentioned, my Favorite Prescription effects cures—the marvel of the world. [illegible] but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm [illegible] to the general [illegible] the muscular [illegible] in moderate [illegible] Indeed, [illegible] the system [illegible] hundreds of mothers [illegible] to the Ladies of America [illegible] and for [illegible] further information [illegible] in my TREATISE ON CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE GENERATIVE AND URINARY ORGANS, sent secure from observation upon receipt of two postage stamps. It treats minutely on those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to their management.
